What is Post Office Over 50s Life Cover?

With Post Office Over 50s Life Cover you can select a benefit amount between £1,000 and £10,000, depending on your age. There are no questions asked about your health or any medical conditions that you may have.

Whose demands and needs does it meet?

Post Office Over 50s Life Cover meets the demands and needs of those who would like the benefit amount to help pay towards funeral costs, outstanding debts or left as a gift.

Who can take out cover?

Post Office Over 50s Life Cover can provide cover for you under a single plan, or for you together with a partner life insured under a joint plan.

A life insured is eligible for cover, if at the start date they are resident in the United Kingdom and aged 50 to 80. Provided these criteria are met, AIG guarantee to accept your application for Post Office Over 50s Life Cover.

What is covered?

In the event of a claim, AIG will provide a lump sum payment as specified below:

Event	Amount Payable
Accidental death	Two times the benefit amount
Non-accidental death in the first 12 months from the policy start date (the deferred period)	1.5 times all premiums paid towards a life insured's cover
Non-accidental death after the first 12 months from the policy start date (after the deferred period)	The benefit amount

The benefit amount you selected for each life insured is specified in your policy schedule. The lump sum payment is provided on the death of each life insured.

The benefit amount will remain fixed throughout the duration of your policy, unless you select the Increasing Benefit Option.

What is the Protected Benefit?

There is a Protected Benefit on this policy which means that if two consecutive premiums are missed or the policy is cancelled and the life insured is at least halfway through paying for their cover, AlG will still pay-out at least half of the benefit amount on death. The halfway point is calculated as the life insured having made half of the number of premium payments due between the policy start date and the policy anniversary on, or after, the life insured turns 95.

The amount of the Protected Benefit that will be paid out depends on how many premium payments have been made whilst the policy was in force.

For example, if you took out your policy at age 75 with a benefit amount of £3,500, you are due to pay the monthly premiums until the policy anniversary on, or after, you turn 95. Depending upon when the policy anniversary falls, this could mean that you are due to pay premiums over 20 years (240 months).

If you should stop paying after exactly 15 years, you would have paid 180 monthly premiums. Therefore, the Protected Benefit would be calculated as:

 $180 \div 240$ which is 0.75. Then 0.75 is multiplied by the full benefit amount (so 0.75 x £3,500 = £2,625).

In this example, the Protected Benefit value would be £2,625 and this amount that would be paid out when you die.

If a life insured is eligible for the Protected Benefit, we will contact you to let you know how much the Protected Benefit will be.

If during the lifetime of your policy, you request to increase the benefit amount for a life insured or choose to add a partner life insured to your policy, the Protected Benefit calculation, in respect of the additional benefit amount or the partner life insured, will be calculated separately.

What is the Increasing Benefit Option?

The Increasing Benefit Option has been designed to help protect the benefit amount from the impact of inflation.

If you select the Increasing Benefit Option, the benefit amount will increase automatically by a fixed amount of 3% of your initial benefit amount each year on your policy anniversary, as set out in your policy schedule.

For example, if the benefit amount at the policy start date was £4,000, the benefit amount would increase by £120 (which is 3% of £4,000) to £4,120 on the first policy anniversary. On the following policy anniversary, the benefit amount would increase by the same amount (£120) to £4,240 and so on.

Your premium will also increase automatically by a fixed amount of 4.5% of your initial premium amount each year on your policy anniversary, as set out in your policy schedule.

You can ask us at any time not to apply the automatic increase, in which case neither the benefit amount nor your premium will increase at the next policy anniversary. If you opt out of 3 increases in a row, the Increasing Benefit Option will be permanently removed from your policy and there will be no further automatic benefit amount increases applied and your premium will remain fixed.

If the life insured has ceased making premium payments and is eligible for the Protected Benefit, then the Increasing Benefit Option will be permanently removed from your policy and there will be no further automatic benefit amount increases applied.

For example, if the premium payable at the policy start date was £20 per month, the premium would increase by 4.5% to £20.90 per month on the first policy anniversary. On the following policy anniversary, the premium would increase by the same amount (£0.90 per month) to £21.80 per month and so on.

What is not covered?

During the first 12 months from the start date of the policy (the deferred period), the amount AIG pays for a non-accidental death will be limited to 1.5 times the return of all premiums paid towards a life insured's cover.

For full details about what is covered and what is not covered under Post Office Over 50s Life Cover, please refer to the Policy Terms and Conditions in sections 2 and 4 on page 14.

How much does cover cost?

The amount of premium payable will depend on the benefit amount you selected; the life insured's age and smoker status; whether you have a single plan or joint plan; and whether you have selected the Increasing Benefit Option. Premiums are payable monthly.

The amount of premium payable will be stated in your policy schedule which will be sent to you at the time you are accepted for cover.

Your premium will remain fixed throughout the duration of your policy, unless you have chosen the Increasing Benefit Option in which case your premium will increase each year.

On the policy anniversary on, or after, the life insured turns 95, premiums are no longer payable, however the life insured's cover continues.

When does cover end?

Post Office Over 50s Life Cover will continue for the whole of each life insured's life until the first of the following occurs:

- the date of death for that particular life insured;
- if two consecutive monthly premium payments are missed;
- the date you cancel the policy; or
- the date AIG cancels the policy.

If two consecutive monthly premiums have been missed or you cancel the policy, the life insured's cover will still continue if they are eligible for the Protected Benefit.

General Information

What is my responsibility under the policy?

When you hold a Post Office Over 50s Life Cover policy, it is your responsibility to:

- ensure regular monthly premiums are paid when due for the duration of the policy.
- contact the Customer Service team when you, or any life insured, change personal details e.g. name, address or bank details.
- check your policy annually, to ensure that it continues to meet your requirements.
- answer all the questions asked by us truthfully, accurately and completely to the best of your knowledge when applying for your policy. If you do not, your cover may be cancelled or a future claim rejected or reduced.

Where there is a partner life insured covered under a joint life plan, they also have a responsibility to answer all the questions asked by us truthfully, accurately and completely to the best of their knowledge when applying for the policy. If they do not, their cover may be cancelled or a future claim rejected or reduced.

What are the things to consider?

No cash in value

This policy only pays out when a life insured dies – it has no cash value and therefore cannot be cashed in at any time.

Missed premiums

If two consecutive premiums are missed before you are at least halfway through your policy, your policy will end and you may receive nothing back.

Effects of inflation

Unless you have selected the Increasing Benefit Option, the benefit amount is fixed when your policy starts and does not change. The value of the benefit amount, including any increases, may not keep up with inflation and as such, the value may reduce over time.

Affordability

If you can no longer afford to pay premiums, you can reduce your premium payments by decreasing the benefit amount at any time, subject to the minimum benefit amount of £1,000. Please contact the Customer Service team if you need any help with affordability.

Inheritance tax

In the event of the life insured's death and the policy paying out to the estate, there may be an inheritance tax liability. You may be able to avoid inheritance tax by using an appropriate trust. If you require any additional information or are unsure about what to do, please speak with a financial advisor or solicitor. The Government may change the tax position described.

You may pay in more

Depending on how long you live, it is possible that the premiums paid may be more than the benefit amount.

How do I cancel the policy?

You have 30 days from the date on which you receive your policy documents to make sure you are happy with your cover and decide whether you want to keep it.

If you want to cancel your cover, you must contact the Customer Service team within 30 days for a full refund of any premiums you have paid, subject to no valid claim being made. If you cancel your cover after the 30 day period then you will not receive any refund of premiums.

If you cancel your cover, and have paid at least half of the premiums due under your policy, then you will be eligible for the Protected Benefit.

To cancel, please contact:

- your policy schedule; and
- this Policy Terms and Conditions document.

Post Office Over 50s Life Cover

1. Eligibility

You are eligible for Post Office Over 50s Life Cover as long as at the start date you are:

- resident in the United Kingdom; and
- and aged 50 to 80.

If you wish to add a partner life insured to the policy, the above eligibility criteria applies at the start date or if the cover is added to the policy later, the date when the partner life insured is accepted for cover.

Providing the eligibility criteria is met, AIG guarantee to accept your application for Post Office Over 50s Life Cover.

2. What is covered

In the event of an accidental death by a life insured:

AIG will pay two times the benefit amount.

In the event of a non-accidental death by a life insured:

- where death occurs in the first 12 months from the policy start date (the deferred period), AIG will pay 1.5 times the total of all premiums paid towards a life insured's cover.
- where death occurs after the first 12 months from the policy start date (after the deferred period), AIG will pay the benefit amount.

3. Minimum and maximum benefit amounts

The minimum benefit amount for each life insured under the policy is £1,000. The maximum benefit amount for a life insured under the policy at the start date is:

Age at start date	Maximum benefit amount
50-69	£10,000
70–74	£9,000
75–80	£6,000

Under the Increasing Benefit Option, the benefit amount could increase beyond these limits.

If you apply for cover with a partner life insured, you can both apply for individual amounts of cover based on the limits stated in the previous table. The benefit amount you selected is specified in your policy schedule. If you request to increase the benefit amount after the start date, then the maximum benefit amount allowed (including any past automated increases) will be based on the life insured's age at the date of the request, and any maximum benefit amounts applicable at that time.

The lump sum payment is provided on the death of each life insured.

4. What is not covered

During the first 12 months from the start date of the policy (the deferred period), the amount AIG pays for a non-accidental death will be limited to the return of 1.5 times all premiums paid towards a life insured's cover.

5. Cover start and end dates

The Post Office Over 50s Life Cover starts for each life insured on the start date as specified in your policy schedule and will continue for the whole of each life insured's life until the first of the following occurs:

- the date of death for that particular life insured;
- if two consecutive monthly premium payments are missed;
- the date you cancel the policy; or
- the date AIG cancels the policy.

If two consecutive monthly premiums have been missed or you cancel the policy, the life insured's cover will still continue if they are eligible for the Protected Benefit.

General conditions and information about your policy

1. Premium payments

Your premium amount is calculated based on the benefit amount you selected; the life insured's age and smoker status; whether you have a single plan or joint plan; and whether you have selected the Increasing Benefit Option.

The amount of premium payable will be stated in your policy schedule which will be sent to you at the time you are accepted for cover.

Your premium will be debited from your nominated bank account monthly on the date of your choice. All premiums are to be paid in United Kingdom currency (£ sterling) from a United Kingdom bank account.

Your premium will remain fixed throughout the duration of your policy, unless you have chosen the Increasing Benefit Option in which case your premium will increase automatically by a fixed amount of 4.5% of your initial premium amount each year on your policy anniversary, as set out in your policy schedule.

On the policy anniversary on, or after, the life insured turns 95, premiums are no longer payable, however the life insured's cover continues.

Under a joint plan, if one life insured reaches the policy anniversary on, or after, their 95th birthday prior to a younger life insured, then the premium amount payable will be reduced in respect of the older life insured and cover will continue for both life insureds.

Once both life insureds reach the policy anniversary on, or after, their 95th birthday, then no premium will be payable and cover will still continue for both life insureds.

2. Protected Benefit

There is a Protected Benefit on this policy which means that if two consecutive premiums are missed or the policy is cancelled and the life insured is at least halfway through paying for their cover, AlG will still pay-out at least half of the benefit amount on death. The halfway point is calculated as the life insured having made half of the number of premium payments due between the policy start date and the policy anniversary on, or after, the date the life insured turns 95.

The amount of the Protected Benefit that will be paid out depends on how many premium payments have been made whilst the policy was in force.

For example, if you took out your policy at age 75 with a benefit amount of £3,500, you are due to pay the monthly premiums until the policy anniversary on, or after, the date the life insured turns 95. Depending upon when the policy anniversary falls, this could mean that you are due to pay premiums over 20 years (240 months).

If you should stop paying after exactly 15 years, you would have paid 180 monthly premiums. Therefore, the Protected Benefit would be calculated as:

 $180 \div 240$ which is 0.75. Then 0.75 is multiplied by the full benefit amount (so 0.75 x £3,500 = £2,625).

In this example, the Protected Benefit value would be £2,625 and this amount that would be paid out when you die.

If a life insured is eligible for the Protected Benefit, we will contact you to let you know how much the Protected Benefit will be.

If during the lifetime of your policy, you request to increase the benefit amount for a life insured or choose to add a partner life insured to your policy, the Protected Benefit calculation, in respect of the additional benefit amount or the partner life insured, will be calculated separately.

3. Increasing Benefit Option

If you selected the Increasing Benefit Option, the benefit amount will increase automatically by a fixed amount of 3% of your initial benefit amount each year on your policy anniversary, as set out in your policy schedule.

You can ask the Customer Service team at any point not to apply the automatic increase, in which case neither the benefit amount nor your premium will increase at the next policy anniversary. If you opt out of 3 increases in a row, the Increasing Benefit Option will be permanently removed from your policy and there will be no further automatic benefit amount increases applied and your premium will remain fixed.

If the life insured has ceased making premium payments and is eligible for the Protected Benefit, then the Increasing Benefit Option will be permanently removed from your policy and there will be no further automatic benefit amount increases applied.

4. Missed premium payments

As soon as a premium payment is missed, you will be contacted to discuss your payment arrangements and may also reattempt collection of your premium from your nominated bank account.

If two consecutive premiums are missed before you are at least halfway through your policy, your policy will end and AIG will have no further responsibility in respect of this policy.

At AIG's absolute discretion, they may reinstate the cover if the outstanding premiums are paid to them in full, although they reserve the right to make any variation in the cover provided.

5. Changing your insurance

5.1 Changes you can make

You may apply, at any time, to change your policy during the period of insurance, however, AIG cannot guarantee that they will be able to make the changes you request. Any changes accepted may be subject to the payment of an additional premium based on your age and smoker status at the time of the request.

If your changes are accepted, you will receive confirmation of these changes, including, if applicable, a new policy schedule. The new policy schedule will replace all previous versions issued.

You can make various changes to your policy, including; updating personal details, adding or removing a partner life insured or changing the benefit amount.

If you are no longer paying premiums towards this policy and you qualify for the Protected Benefit, you will not be able to make changes to your policy.

5.2 Changing your benefit amount

If at any time you would like to apply to increase the benefit amount for a life insured (other than through automatic benefit amount increases under the Increasing Benefit Option), then the benefit amount increase will be subject to a new deferred period from the date the change is made. The benefit amount increase will also be subject to the maximum benefit amounts available, based upon the life insured's age at the date the change is made.

If you wish to do so, you can reduce the benefit amount at any time, subject to the minimum benefit amount of £1,000. If you do reduce the benefit amount, the premium will be reduced accordingly. The reduced benefit amount would not be subject to a new deferred period.

5.3 Changes under a joint plan

Under a joint plan, any changes to the policy can only be made by the policy holder and not the partner life insured. For joint plans, should a life insured pass away, the remaining life insured can continue their cover and pay the required premiums under a single plan should they wish to do so. The single plan would continue under the same terms for the remaining life insured. If the remaining life insured was the partner life insured, they would become the policy holder.

If the Protected Benefit is paid to a life insured under a joint plan, the policy will continue under the same terms for the remaining life insured.

5.4 Changes AIG can make

AlG can make changes to the terms and conditions of your policy that they reasonably consider are appropriate if there is a request from any regulatory authority to do so, or there is a change in the law, applicable legislation, regulation, taxation, expenses or recommendations or decisions of a regulator or similar body affecting AlG or your policy. These changes could affect the amount and type of cover provided under the policy.

If AIG does decide to make any changes to your policy, you will be contacted at least 28 days before the change takes effect. If you are not happy with the changes, you have the right to cancel the policy (see the section headed Cancellation rights on page 20).

6. Annual review of cover

It is your responsibility to review the cover annually to ensure it remains adequate for your needs.

7. Multiple policies

If the life insured is covered under more than one Post Office Over 50s Life Cover policy provided by AIG, the total lump sum payment provided on death under all policies combined will be limited to that which would have applied under a single policy with a chosen benefit amount equal to the maximum benefit amount as illustrated in the 'Minimum and maximum benefit amounts' section on page 14.

If a reduction in the amount provided is necessary due to the maximum limits being exceeded, the reduction will be applied to the insurance policy most recently commenced and the same proportion of associated premiums paid will be refunded.

8. Governing law

This policy is governed by the laws of England and Wales. All policy communication will be in English.

9. Data privacy

We, Neilson Financial Services Limited and AIG fully comply with all applicable Data Protection Legislation and Regulation.

By providing personal information, the life insured agrees that this information will be used by us, Neilson Financial Services, AIG, their reinsurers and our service suppliers for the purposes of arranging, issuing and administering a policy, including claims handling.

10. Accuracy of Information

It is important that the information provided by the life insured is true, accurate and complete. If any of the information provided by the life insured is fraudulent, deliberately misleading, untrue or inaccurate then:

- the policy will be cancelled;
- AIG will not pay any benefit amount;
- any benefit amount that has already been paid under this policy must immediately be repaid;
- any premiums paid for this policy will not be returned.

In addition, AIG may not pay part or all of a claim and may have the right to cancel the policy at the time if, when you applied for the policy or when making a claim, the life insured does not provide all the information we ask for, and/or the policy holder does not tell the Customer Service team of any inaccuracies before or immediately after your policy is issued.

If the life insured's date of birth or smoker status as shown on your policy schedule is incorrect, the terms of the policy shall be cancelled and reissued based on terms that would have applied if the correct date of birth or smoker status had been given. This could include increasing the amount of premium payable, reducing the benefit amount or cancelling this policy.

11. How to make a claim

Claims should be made as soon as possible after the insured event occurs. To make a claim under this policy, please contact:

📞 0800 068 8014, weekdays from 9am to 7pm

Customer Services, Post Office, PO Box 6063, Windsor, SL4 9GL

claims@postofficelife.co.uk

Once a claim request is received, the claimant will be contacted and a claim form will be sent to be completed, signed and returned. AIG will require proof of a death to assess the claim.

AIG may also require the life insured's treating doctor or a medical specialist to complete a report which will be at AIG's expense. It may also be necessary to access the life insured's medical records. AIG may also require further information or documentary evidence to assess the claim.

If any information or documentation that would reasonably be required to assess the claim is not provided by the claimant, AIG will not be able to process the claim until the information or documentation is made available.

For joint plans, if a life claim is accepted for the partner life insured, the benefit amount is payable to the policy holder. If a life claim is accepted for the policy holder, the benefit amount is payable to the policy holder or the person who is legally entitled to it (which may not be the partner life insured).

Once the claim is accepted, AIG will pay the lump sum due to you or the person who is legally entitled to it, whichever is appropriate.

If applicable, AIG will refund any premium(s) collected after the date of death in respect of the life insured where a valid claim is made in respect of the life insured.

When AIG pays a claim, the life insurance cover will end for that life insured and AIG will have no further responsibility under the insurance for that life insured following such payment.

12. Cancellation rights

You have 30 days from the date on which you receive your policy documents to make sure you are happy with your cover and decide whether you want to keep it. If you want to cancel your cover within this period, please contact:

📞 0800 068 8014, weekdays from 9am to 7pm

service@postofficelife.co.uk

After your cancellation request is received, your cover will be cancelled and you will be sent a letter of confirmation. Any premium you may have paid will be refunded, subject to no valid claim being made.

If you wish to cancel your cover after the 30 day period, you can do this by contacting the Customer Service team. If you do, you will not receive any refund of premiums.

If you cancel your cover, and have paid at least half of the premiums due under your policy, then you will be eligible for the Protected Benefit.

If you do not cancel, your policy will start and end as set out in the Policy Terms and Conditions and your policy schedule. AIG will collect premiums as agreed.

AIG can cancel this policy in any of the following circumstances:

- if they believe a claim to be false or fraudulent;
- if the incorrect date of birth of a life insured was given at the time of application; or
- if two consecutive premium payments were not paid when due.
